

“With the help of the staff
I became more confident”

Matthew

Independence, Inclusion, Employment.

Progressive day opportunities for adults and young people with learning disabilities and/or autism.

What are Shaw Trust Social Enterprises?

Our Shaw Trust Enterprises deliver a range of commercial activities that create 'real' work and training opportunities for local people.

We train our clients, teach them new skills, boost their confidence and help them become more independent.

For those who aspire to work, we create paid opportunities within our Social Enterprises or help them secure other paid work elsewhere.

New skills

Our experienced team help support individuals to work towards their goals at their own pace.

Activities:

- Learning about growing and looking after plants
- Helping customers
- Handling cash/cards and using electronic touch screen tills
- Preparing plants including hanging baskets and wreaths
- Woodwork, using tools and some machinery
- Garden and grounds maintenance

We believe each person has the right to independence, inclusion and employment.

Our model has supported many people to learn new skills, become more knowledgeable, and to become more confident.

What happens next?

We invite the individual to visit our social enterprise.

We give them a guided tour, spend some time with them to find out what types of things they are interested in and what they like to do. Once we have this information we work to include Shaw Trust in their care plan.

There is a cost. If they have a personal budget or direct payment we can start putting a plan in place straight away.

It is a warm and welcoming environment and all of our staff and volunteers are experienced professionals.
